A Job Application for the Position of Front-end Developer
To Ravi,

I am pleased to submit my application for the Front-end Developer, which was advertised on LinkedIn . Given my strong background in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, I am confident that I would be an asset to your team.

I spearheaded the development of responsive web applications, resulting in a 20% increase in user engagement. I am enthusiastic about the prospect of using my technical expertise and creativity to help advance Pepper programming.

Please find my resume enclosed for your review. I am excited to talk with you about how my skills align with your team's requirements.

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,
Chandru
